1. Our culture is steadily becoming more anti-Christian, and we must be prepared to answer them with the truth. What would you say to someone who says, “Christianity wouldn’t be that bad, if it wasn’t for them thinking that they are the only ones going to heaven.”
2. The gospel is the most divisive message on earth, and it is also the one of which all people will be divided. However, we are commanded to proclaim this divisive message. Why?
3. Read Acts 17:31-34. Paul was preaching to people who were worshipping idols.
  - a. Did Paul allow for their idol worship to continue?
  - b. What did he command them to do?
  - c. What was the proof Paul gave that Jesus Christ was going to be their Judge?
4. From Scripture, we know that all sinners will face Jesus Christ in judgment. Much of modern Christianity has removed this part of the story, yet Paul had no problem telling unsaved idol worshippers about the coming judgment that they would face. Is speaking about such judgment to nonbelievers unloving? Why or why not?
5. Psalm 139 speaks much of God’s complete knowledge of each person’s actions, thoughts, and motives. This could lead, even professing Christians to wonder how God could possibly still love them. How does rightly understanding Philippians 3:8-9 help you to rest your salvation in Christ and not in yourself?
