A Call to Give Worldwide Praise to God

Speaker: Pastor Larry Ball

Text: Psalm 96

The truth that Christ is coming and that He will judge the world with truth has important implications to us and for the cause of worldwide missions.

Because Christ will judge the earth...

I. All the world should _____ Him and _____ His glory among all peoples.—vv. 1-6

• Exhortations:

• The Message:

II. The _____ and _____ of the earth should ascribe to Him glory and strength and worship Him in Godly awe.—vv. 7-10

• Families of the earth-people groups

• Worship Him in the beauty of _____

• _____ before Him.

• Say among the nations, "The LORD regins!"

III. All _____ will rejoice.—vv. 11-12

Conclusion:

• We need to praise, declare, worship, and ascribe to Him the rightful glory that is His.

• This praise should be done by all of creation, the whole world, by every nation, tribe, and people.

• All creation should give praise, glory, and worship to the One True God.

WEEKLY SCRIPTURE READING

Hebrews 6:1-12

FURTHER CONSIDERATIONS

Psalm 96

1. What event was the occasion for the writing of Psalms 95 and 96, and why is that significant? (2 Samuel 6)
2. What are the implications of the Lord's coming and His judgment of the earth? How should that impact your life?
3. Why is singing such a special part of our worship?
4. How do we see His concern for the world in this Psalm?
5. The Psalm speaks of proclaiming His greatness to the families of the earth. What specific people groups should we consider attempting to reach in this community?
6. What does it mean to worship him in the beauty of holiness?
7. How will creation itself be affected by His coming?
8. How can I praise Him today?
